CASE STUDY

Royal Caribbean - Symphony of the Seas

At 1,188 feet long and with a passenger capacity of 6,680, The Symphony of the Seas is one of the most ambitious family cruise ships ever conceived. Newmor were tasked with designing and making unique wallcoverings for the vessel's Ultimate Family Suite - a two-level, 1,346-square-foot suite filled with awesome thrills offering more than enough room for the whole family. We created high quality and durable custom wallcoverings, that were able to withstand the volume of families visiting the suite, whilst delivering the 'wow' factor that Royal Caribbean are known for.

CASE STUDY

NCL Norwegian Spirit

This refurbishment project was the most extensive bow to stern regeneration of any ship in the Norwegian Spirit Fleet. The major enhancements carried out included fourteen new restaurants, bars, cafes and lounges. Newmor supplied custom made IMO wallcoverings for the ships boutique-hotel inspired cabins, bringing a classic luxe feel to the rooms.

CASE STUDY

P&O Cruises - The Iona

One of the largest cruise ships for UK cruisers, the P&O Iona is a sight to behold. She boasts an innovative array of exciting onboard features, including the SkyDome and a show stopping, glass-walled atrium. Newmor supplied custom marine wallcoverings for the public areas on the ship. The finishes and scheme were carefully selected to reflect the quintessentially British feel that P&O is famous for.

ICON OF THE SEAS

Royal Caribbean

The Icon of the Seas is the world's largest cruise ship. Newmor were delighted to print custom wallcoverings for their Ultimate Family Townhouse. Spanning three levels, it is the perfect home away from home for families of up to eight.

MADE IN THE UK

Newmor has been manufacturing and designing wallcoverings for over half a century. Our business benefits from a skilled workforce with many decades of experience and our commitment to design development. We have one of the largest ex-stock commercial wallcovering facilities in the UK but have also invested in our Digital Design Studio, allowing us to deliver bespoke designs equally efficiently. Our business is structured to support any project timescale and budget.

We continually invest in new products, so as well as our own design studio we work in collaboration with a host of UK designers and artists to promote their designs within the commercial sector. All designs can be recoloured, rescaled, and digitally printed onto any of our substrates including textures, metallics and window films.

Our UK facility has ISO9001 and ISO14001 accreditation. Newmor wallcoverings are made in the UK but sold to the world. We operate in over 80 countries through a vast international distribution network and regional sales offices.

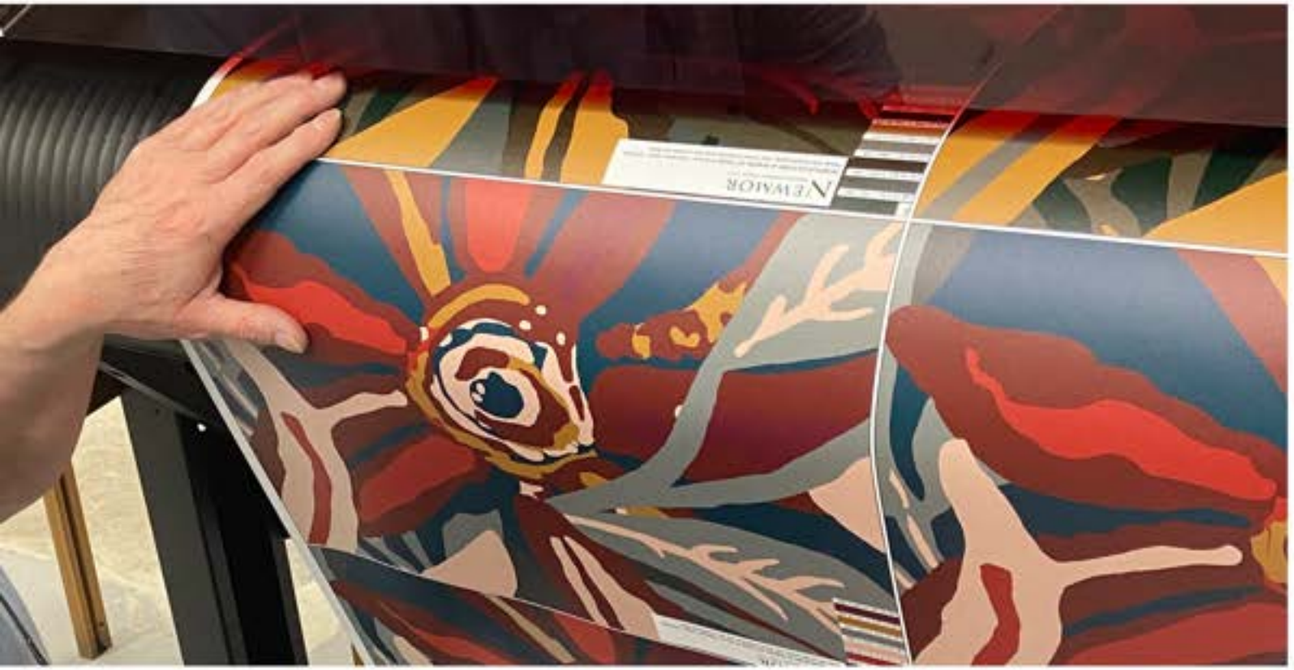

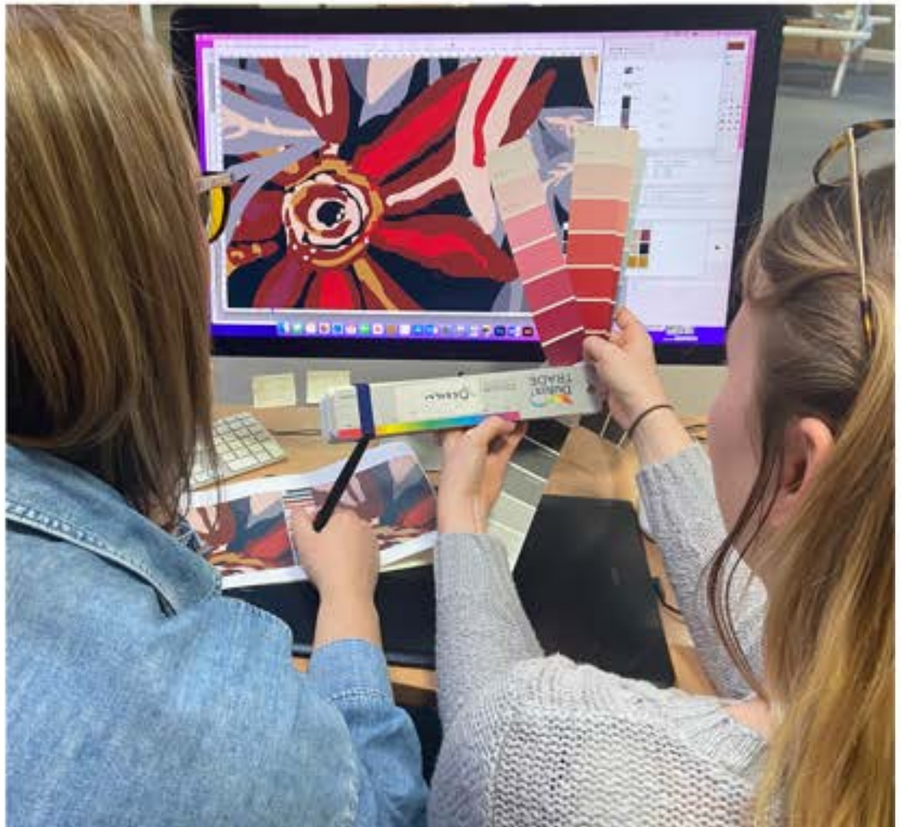

DIGITAL DESIGN STUDIO & CUSTOM CAPABILITIES

Marine projects often require a mix of digital and traditionally manufactured vinyl wallcoverings. Our centralised design studio can support you in creating the perfect mix.

Newmor's digital design library has hundreds of designs that can be recoloured and/or rescaled and printed onto a choice of fabric backed vinyl textures. We can also rescale and recolour any of our stocked ranges or create something totally bespoke to your brief. Our unique wet studio holds over 50 mini embosses of our most popular textures; these are direct replicas of the larger embosses we use in production; of which we have well over a hundred.
